ARE YOU OVER-QUALIFIED TO SERVE?

It should come to no surprise to know that even the most talented of individuals are never seen or heard. They complete task after task because they enjoy their work and see it as an opportunity to bring a smile to the face of God. No fanfare, no autographs, no bonuses, no need for certificates and accolades. Perhaps that is one reason that “no one really knew who Jesus was.” Born during a very busy time of year for those who didn’t have time to notice, raised as a son to a man who worked with his hands rather than one who sat as authority over the nation, learned quietly beside other children of his age and perhaps young adults learning his family’s trade/s. However, the Man who was God in the flesh, who spoke the world into existence, who commanded the wind and rain, the One who had all authority over nature... knelt down in front of His disciples and washed their feet. Was Jesus over qualified for such a simple and meaningless task? Makes you wonder, doesn’t it. The One person who was over qualified based on His heavenly credentials and perhaps even in His wisdom and standing as a man and leader of men was the one who served in such a powerful way.

We have had the privilege of living in a place that offers incredible opportunities to live, learn and grow in numerous ways. We’ve grown in stature and wisdom and gained understanding through experience. We have enjoyed our wonderful friendships and families. We’ve been blessed with opportunities to work and bring home a paycheck to support and provide for our own family. We can enjoy times of fellowship and Bible study in a facility that meets our needs. We have been given much, and as Scripture says, “it is required that a steward be found faithful.” And we are to give and serve freely and with a cheerful heart. Scripture doesn’t call us to “think about serving the Lord with gladness” but to serve the Lord with gladness. Our qualification to serve the Lord and serve others? Very simple... and it isn’t based on experience or merit... our qualification is our love for the Lord and desire to honor Him in faithful obedience. Every believer is gifted to serve. Every believer. We would all agree that no task is too large for a believer because “greater is He that is in you than he that is in the world”... likewise, we should also agree that there is no task is too small for a believer.
